

Accessibility Statement

Effective Date: 02/12/2026

Wild Roses Nutrition LLC is committed to making its services and digital information reasonably accessible to people with disabilities.

Our Commitment

We aim to provide an inclusive experience for clients and website visitors, including people who use assistive technologies or who need communication or access accommodations. We work to identify and improve barriers as our website and services evolve.

Website Accessibility Efforts

Our ongoing accessibility efforts may include:

- Using clear headings and logical page structure.
- Providing meaningful alternative text for important images where practical.
- Maintaining readable text and sufficient visual contrast.
- Supporting keyboard navigation and browser zoom where supported by the website platform.
- Using descriptive links and labels rather than relying only on visual cues.
- Providing captions, transcripts, or alternative formats for important content when reasonably available.
- Reviewing forms, booking tools, and client-facing content for usability and access barriers.

Accommodations for Services

If you need an accommodation to participate in an in-person or virtual nutrition service, please contact us in advance when possible. We will make reasonable efforts to provide effective communication or an alternative way to access the service, consistent with applicable law and the nature of the request.

Third-Party Services

Some website features, booking tools, payment systems, client portals, embedded media, or external links may be provided by third parties. Wild Roses Nutrition may not control every aspect of those systems, but we welcome reports of accessibility barriers and will work to identify an alternative method when reasonably possible.

Need Assistance or Want to Report a Barrier?

Please tell us what page, feature, document, or service created difficulty and what type of assistance would be helpful.
